Lunch Box

I am a lunchbox. I was made in a factory one year back. Blue and red plastic sheets were used to make me. Next, a lady stuck a "Ben 10" sticker on top of my lid. In a few days, I was packed in a plastic sheet and sent to a big shop full of other boxes like me. Also in the shop were many bottles, plates, glasses and cups. All of us were waiting for our owners to buy us from there.

A little boy, Umar came in the shop with his father one day. He really liked my sticker and asked his father to buy me. I was really happy.

I went to Umar's house where his mother would take special care of me by washing me with warm water and soap each day. She would put some yummy snack inside me and then put me in Umar's school bag. Umar was a kind boy and he treated me very well. I lived with Umar for seven months.

Then one day, some boys of Umar's school were playing in the field when suddenly a big ball came striking over me. I fell down on the ground with a big thud. "Heeelp", I shouted, but in vain. My body had a big crack and I lay in pain.

Poor Umar! He was very upset but he had to put me in the trash bin. I was of no use to him. From the bin, I was taken to a big ground. Now, here I am. My plastic will be recycled to make another box out of it.
