

Name _____

Date _____

Assad watches TV

Assad was very fond of watching TV. He would watch game shows, news programs, cartoons and sports on TV. All day long, he would sit in front of the screen with a remote in his hand and would watch each and every program he found interesting.

His mother would yell and his father would shout but Assad did not listen to them at all!

His grades at school slipped gradually as he did not do his homework assignments on time. He was poor at running and playing any kind of sport for he never practiced any. All he did was sit and sit on the old sofa in his lounge and watch TV.

Finally, it was test week at school. Assad failed miserably in his tests and could not be promoted to the next grade. All his friends and neighbors laughed at him. And how they laughed and made fun!

After that, Assad promised himself that he will now not waste time watching TV and he will first finish his work and play activities before doing so.

---

Assad watches TV

---

Answer the following questions.

1. What was Assad fond of doing?

---

---

2. What did Assad watch on TV?

---

---

3. What did his parents do?

---

---

4. What happened when he did not do his homework on time?

---

---

5. Was Assad good at any kind of sport?

---

---

6. What promise did Assad make in the end?

---

---

7. yell

- a. shout
- b. laugh
- c. cry
- d. hide

8. poor

- a. excellent
- b. good
- c. rich
- d. bad